Contents

Preface 5

Introduction 14
Kari J. Kværner and Thomas Hoholm

Part I Shaping the Health Services of the Future 21

1 Everything We Cannot See 27
The iceberg model for drawing attention to, understanding and shaping social structures
Josina Vink

2 Competing Logics 34
An approach for mapping and discussing diverse rationales within health services
Josina Vink, Shivani Prakash and Felicia Nilsson

3 The Power of User Participation 41
Seven different ways to involve and include users
Betina Riis Asplin and Thomas Hoholm

4 Value-Driven Innovation 50
A new alliance between practitioner and patient
Keith Peavy, Thomas Hoholm and Bjørn Erik Mørk

5 Mindfully Navigating Conflict 55
Holding tensions with the help of service design
Josina Vink

6 Diverse Bodies in the Health Services of the Future 60
Critical and speculative design strategies for equality and diversity in digital healthcare
Marie Louise Juul Søndergaard

7 Everyday System Shaping 68
Seeing yourself as a force for transformation
Josina Vink

Part II Making the Right Decisions 75

8 Leading Innovation Processes 79
Reflection as the key to steadfast and inclusive leadership
Kari J. Kværner

9 Early Health Technology Assessment (Step Up) 88
From qualified assessment to knowledge-based decisions
Kari J. Kværner and Linn Støme

10 Evaluating to Improve Health Service developments 101
What to consider before setting a pilot project in motion
Kari J. Kværner and Linn Støme

11 Computer Simulation to Optimize Patient Flow and Resource Use in the Health Service 112
The value of data in exploring opportunities and making decisions
Lene Berge Holm and Tone Breines Simonsen

12 Innovation Through Embedded Design 121
A guide to establishing embedded service design labs in healthcare organizations
Jonathan Romm

13 Implementation Roadmapping 129
A method for planning and anchoring the next steps
Frida Almqvist

Part III The Route Through a Procurement Process 139

14 What is the Problem with Public Procurement? 141
Challenges and opportunities for effective partnerships with private-sector suppliers
Jon Bingen Sande

15 Guide to Complex Problem-Solving in Procurement Projects 151
Step by step towards success
Jon Bingen Sande

16 How to Use Relational Contracts in Public Procurement .. 157
Good advice for successful collaborations between public- and private-sector actors
Jon Bingen Sande

17 Requirement Specifications in Procurement Projects in the Health Service 165
Checklist for involving suppliers at the right stage in the process
Anna Stepanova

18 Innovation Partnerships 171
What they can and cannot accomplish
Morten H. Abrahamsen and Per Ingvar Olsen

19 How Do We Achieve Innovation-Friendly Digital Infrastructures? 180
Advice and criteria for successful digital development processes
Margunn Aanestad, Polyxeni Vassilakopoulou and Miria Grisot

20 How Do Start-Ups Sell Healthcare Innovation? 190
Eight tips to succeed as a supplier
Susanna Pinnock and Maria Grazyna Hviding

Part IV Seeing the Evidence of Change 197

21 A New Way for Patients and Healthcare Personnel to Interact 199
Consequences of introducing digital remote follow-up care
Miria Grisot, Alexander Moltubakk Kempton and Margunn Aanestad

22 The Contrast Between Plan and Reality 207
Observation as a method to juxtapose concept and practice
Zhipeng Duan

23 The Security to Change Professional Identity 216
What we're asking for when we ask employees to be more innovative
Keith Peavy, Thomas Hoholm and Bjørn Erik Mørk

24 The Challenges of Agreeing on Innovation Management Tools 226
Solid advice for measuring and sharing innovation experiences across hospitals and sectors
Trust Saidi, Per Ingvar Olsen and Kari J. Kværner

25 Scaling New Digital Health Services in Times of Crisis.... 233
Lessons learned from the COVID-19 pandemic in the City of Oslo
Per Ingvar Olsen and Morten H. Abrahamsen

26 How Do We Facilitate Implementation? 242
Six measures for adopting and using digital cloud-based solutions
Per Ingvar Olsen

27 Adopting New Healthcare Technologies – Experiences from the UK 247
Three pieces of advice to strengthen the Norwegian health service
Gilbert Kofi Adarkwah and Per Ingvar Olsen

Conclusion 254

About the Authors..... 260